

Air Force Heritage Campaign 2010

The Royal Canadian Air Force Association Trust Fund would like to raise funds for the Comox Air Force Museum in 2010. Our 2009 campaign in support of the National Air Force Museum of Canada and RCAF Memorial Air Park (Trenton) was a huge success. We hope the association membership will help sustain that momentum by donating to another worthy cause - this time in Comox, British Columbia. Any amount will help - receipts will be provided for donations of $10 and higher.

Look for the donation coupon (see facsimile below) in your magazine's polybag, along with the return envelope, or send your donation to: "RCAF Association Trust Fund", PO Box 2460 Stn D, Ottawa, ON, K1P 5W6. Help sustain the momentum and join our 2010 campaign!

Comox Air Force Museum

Discover the history of Canadian military aviation, both nationally and locally. Per square foot, the Comox Air Force Museum contains more memorabilia, artifacts and heritage than any other military museum in Canada.

Located at historic 19 Wing Comox, the Comox Air Force Museum features the history of Canadian west coast military aviation, from its beginnings with the Royal Flying Corps through its evolution into Air Command of the Canadian Armed Forces.

The short-lived years of the Canadian Air Force (1918-1924) and the glory years of the Royal Canadian Air Force (1924-1968) are also chronicled. Special theme exhibits complement our permanent collection of aviation memorabilia, which highlights the operations of 19 Wing Comox squadrons, both past and present.

The Comox Air Force Museum also features...

- Extensive library with thousands of volumes and periodicals
- Heritage Airpark with fighter jets, multi-engine aircraft and a helicopter on display to the public
- Museum Gift Shop with Squadron memorabilia and aircraft/flying related merchandise

Help support the ongoing restoration of a Mark IX Spitfire, now being rebuilt in its own permanent hangar
